A Team of Qualified Engineers Working For You

Our Building Engineers are part of a team. When we supply you with an employee, they are backed by a maintenance team which is available to supply coverage during times of sickness or vacation. The team is also available to lend a hand during major problems such as floods or other disasters.

MACKENZIE SERVICES COMPANY, LLC

Work Order Documentation and Resolution Tracking All calls that are taken by our Customer Service Desk are documented and logged into our work order system. We frequently review the calls to monitor status and ensure completion.

Ability to Assess and Determine Your Repair Needs Our Engineers can assess a problem. If they are not able to fix the problem, they will stabilize the situation and advise you as to which contractor is needed. This can save down time and wasted expenses from calling the wrong contractor. Example: Water coming from the ceiling. Do you need a plumber, an HVAC company or a roofer? Our Engineer analyzes the problem, secures the situation to mitigate any further damage, and calls the correct contractor if needed.

Lower Rates on Billable Services For the simpler jobs, our billable rates are typically much less than those of outside electricians or plumbers.

Logistical Coordination of Meetings with Inspectors and Contractors Our Building Engineers will meet your fire, elevator or other inspectors. They will also meet and monitor any contractors that are working at your building.

The unrivaled scale of the asset class ensures there are plenty of opportunities for those organized, connected, and active in the market.

Our strategy is focused on Value Add and Opportunistic investments. The structure of our firm allows us to be fast and nimble when strong opportunities are identified. The corporate structure provides us with the patience to pass on opportunities with unnecessary risk. We are not compensated through volumed driven management fees, which allows us to be selective in the opportunities we pursue. Moreover, we always invest alongside our limited partners to reinforce our belief and commitment every time capital is deployed.
